c/o 6901 East Tudor No. 7
Anchorage, AK 99507

Dear Mr. Winterrowd:

I am writing in response to your public information requests dated February 15, 2000, and directed to the justices of the Alaska Supreme Court. Unfortunately, the documents you have requested do not exist. I am enclosing certified copies of the justices' oaths of office, although that is not precisely what you requested, because they are the documents that most closely resemble items you have requested. If you wish to keep these certified copies, please remit $35.00, payable to the State of Alaska, sent to the address listed above. If you do not wish to keep them, please return the copies and you will not be charged.

I note that, although attorneys do not receive any document called a "license to practice law," you may wish to contact the Alaska Bar Association for whatever information they can provide on licensed attorneys in the state.

Sincerely,

Marilyn May
